Runtime Client

A Servoy Runtime Client is created in Servoy Developer using the Runtime Builder plugin (optional when installing Servoy Developer).

The runtime builder plugin allows for the creation of a runtime per target platform. The runtime, a folder containing several files and subfolders, is portable, i.e. it can be copied to different machines running the same operating system.

The folder in which the runtime is created contains an executable that can be double clicked to launch the application.