

Special Operators

Method Summary

`void` `typeof\(\)`
Returns the type of the given object, one of these strings get returned: "number", "string", "boolean", "object", "function" or undefined if the object doesn't exists.

Method Details

typeof

`void` typeof ()

Returns the type of the given object, one of these strings get returned: "number", "string", "boolean", "object", "function" or undefined if the object doesn't exists.

Returns

`void`

Sample

```
application.output(typeof "abc"); // string application.output(typeof 10); // number
application.output(typeof 10.1); // number application.output(typeof true); // boolean application.output(typeof parseInt); // function application.output(typeof application); // object application.output(typeof somethingInexisting); // undefined
```